TOWN AND COUNTY.

Go to Goldberg's for bargains. * District court will convene one week from next Monday.

All kinds of fresh candies and nuts at Goldberg's.

A Catholic church is in process of erection at Tempe.

A. H. Peeples, non-partisan nominee for the council, is in town.

Chas. E. McIntock, of the HERALD, left for Prescott yesterday.

German prunes, currants and dried figs at Goldberg's.

The mail between Tiptop and Phoenix is carried on horseback at present.

Ladies' winter hats at Goldberg's.

Rev. Wm. Meyer will preach in the hall to-morrow (Sunday) evening at seven o'clock.

Lawyer Van Slack, of Globe, is in town awaiting the convening of district court.

Nice lot of hardware, crockery, and glassware at Goldberg's.

Summer underwear and clothing cheap at Goldberg's, in order to make room for winter goods.

The amount of rain-fall at Florence during the rainy season of the present year was 5.58 inches.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church, South, will be held in the new church, commencing on Friday evening, October 11.

M. Edwards left town last Monday for Los Angeles, but expects to return in two or three months with a complete line of staple and fancy dry goods.

Mr. David Moore died on September 28, at his ranch south of town. The deceased was seventy-eight years of age, and had resided in this valley many years.

J. D. Monihon, heavy man of this place, is the mail contractor between here and McDowell. Although the drive is short, his coaches and stock are fine and he is always prompt.

John G. Campbell, the fourth in the race for delegate to congress, accompanied by Grant Oury, passed through town this week from the southern part of the territory for the northern part.

Mr. Griffiths, one of the proprietors of the C. and A. State line, was in town this week, and informed us that it would not be long before the through daily stage between Yuma and Tucson would pass through this place.

Joe Phly arrived from Tucson on Monday evening. We had anticipated a few quiet evenings when he returned, as the Mexican population had become very noisy, especially nights, but he left again Tuesday to be gone two weeks.

We direct the attention of our merchants to the advertisement on another page of H. S. Fitzgerald & Co., of Yuma. They forward goods to all parts of the Territory and give good satisfaction. They ship goods at the very first opportunity and never delay for the sake of receiving storage.

From a special telegram received from Yuma last Thursday, we learn that Andrew Kirby has been released from jail on his own recognizance.

Kirby was one of the three men arrested on the charge of robbing the California bound stage which left Wickenburg on the evening of April 18th last. These men have always declared their innocence, and at this late day it begins to look as if there was some truth in their statements.

From his snowy locks and bent form we presume his age to have been in the neighborhood of sixty years. Attracted by the bonfire and the booming of great cartridges, he attended the political meeting gotten up in the interests of Davis, of Prescott. He occupied a position about ten feet from the speaker and paid close attention, showing that he was not too old to learn. He listened in quietness until Davis got down to the Mexican question and his description of the valleys in the northern states of that country was so fairy-like and enchanting that four information-seekers interrupted the speaker by inquiring the distance from Tucson.

Mr. Davis informed our hero and then branched off on the mineral resources of that country and told a good story of Tom Ewing's attempt to work the Salina mines. Our seeker after information here again interrupted the speaker with, "There's Skimmerhorn he was superintendent of them mines (cries of 'shut up') and he wrote to the Albany Journal all about them and I am now on my way to that country." Here Mr. Davis asked his sore-footed distributor to wait until he finished, but he wouldn't be put down, and continued, "Well, I just want to let you know how I stand on that question. I live on the Verde now, but—" and the man who wished to be understood on the question was summarily squelched by being seized by the crowd, dragged off to a distant adobe hole and buried beneath a ton of pumpkins.

The sheriff was authorized to purchase a clock for the use of the court house.

The board then adjourned.

PHENIX, THE FUTURE CAPITAL OF ARIZONA.

The capital question has been a disturbing element in the politics and legislation of this territory from its organization. In the near future this question will be settled, and that too in favor of Phoenix or Prescott. Which shall it be? Is the question for us to decide.

As far as the prosperity of our own town is concerned, I regard it as the leading question of the coming legislature. Right here some one says, "The capital will be of no particular value to you." I admit that the simple meeting of the legislature once in two years, a short session of the supreme court once a year, and the residence of the federal officers at this place, is of no great value; but with the location of the capital is connected the idea that goes out to the world, that the place of its location is to be the future central business point of the territory; men of capital come and locate as permanent citizens, invest their means in lands, water, ditches, machine shops, manufacturing establishments and mines, and thrift and prosperity spring up at the touch of industry. All industries are social, and one assists the other.

Should this place be the capital? We give two reasons why it should be:

1. It is in the great agricultural valley of the territory—of the future State of Arizona. Its growth in population and wealth will be gradual, but permanent. Our water supply is abundant and certain. Our soil is good, and with proper care in cultivating and plowing under, green crops may be improved far beyond its present fertility. We are not subject to the uncertain and precarious existence of a mining town, which to-day is all life and to-morrow is like "Goldsmith's Deserted Village."

Give us the capital and in the near future our agricultural lands throughout the valley will command a good price; comfortable homes will dot our valley over, surrounded with orchards, pasture lands and vines, inclosed with durable fences, and all those things which make home comfortable and life desirable will follow in its wake.

The second reason why Phoenix should be the capital, is: That it is about the geographical centre of the territory, and easy of access to all. And as the meetings of the legislative body and of the supreme court are now held during the winter months, and probably will be so held in future, and as our winter climate is fine and as mild and delightful as Southern Italy or Spain, therefore it is the most appropriate place in the territory for the capital. As it is manifest destiny that the capital will come to this place sooner or later, let it come now, that the vexed question may be forever settled. To this end let us have an earnest, honest, intelligent, influential, able and true working delegate in congress, rather than a talking machine. We have too many of them in the States. We want more doers, actors, and thinkers. Then should we get the capital located here, we may be able to get an appropriation to construct capital buildings.

A. D. LEMON.

We understand John Mullen has returned from his trip to Mexico with three of the horses which were stolen by the stage robbers a few weeks since.

J. H. Cummings intends in a short time to open a feed stable in the first building north of Cotton's saloon, opposite the HERALD office.
